

PRIVACY POLICY

Neighborhood House values your privacy and will not provide or release names, web site addresses or e-mail addresses of users to any third party without the user's explicit permission. We will not assume we have your permission unless we have individual contact with you, either by phone, email, mail, or in-person meeting.

Reading or downloading

The Neighborhood House website does not store personal information in any area but does collect analytics that allow us to measure website activity, the domains used to access the internet, and the dates and times our site is accessed. Cookie technology helps Neighborhood House determine which features and services are important to our audiences, helping us know where to direct ongoing website development and make the site more useful to visitors.

Email subscriptions

Should you decide to subscribe to Neighborhood House communications through our website, you will have the opportunity to select your communication preferences. You may always opt out of receiving future mailings/email; see the "opt out" section below.

Online donations

Information collected when donations are made through Neighborhood House's website may be used by Neighborhood House staff to contact the donor when necessary. Those who make a donation through our website are automatically subscribed to Neighborhood House communications. You may always opt out of receiving future mailings/emails; see the "opt out" section below.

Sending us an email

You may decide to send us personally identifying information in an email message containing a question or comment, or by filling out a web form that provides us this information. We use personally identifying information provided in this manner to respond to your requests. We may forward your email to other Neighborhood House employees who are better able to answer your questions. We may also use your email to contact you in the future about our programs.

Opt out or change your contact information

While you cannot remove yourself from Neighborhood House's database, you can prevent unwanted communications and/or request that your account be de-activated by contacting us by phone at 206-461-8430 or email at info@nhwa.org. You may update your contact information previously provided to us by submitting a new subscription request online or contacting us by phone at 206-461-8430 or email at info@nhwa.org.

Questions about our policies

If you have any questions about this privacy statement, the practices of this website, or your dealings with this website, please contact us at 206-461-8430.
